

NO Fairytale Ending

TIME HAS RUN OUT...

The wonderful LOVE Story in its way has come to an end...

Full of love

Adventure

Passion

Caresses

A smile I never thought to return

Brought back to my face...

Butterflies I had forgotten...filled my tummy

As you appeared...as if out of pure magic...

A wizard you must be for I felt free...

Nostalgic yet differentiated emotions...refilled me

My lips only carry your name

My heart tattooed a scripture in which resides you...

A piece missing for you took it with you...

No longer dancing endlessly at a ball...

The glow...Gone...

The

Spell

Still

Not

Broken

Sleeping Beauty now Alert

For Reality has awoken...

The Beauty Remains alone...

Seeing the remnants of her beloved beast...

No lamp or genie to fulfill

Keyona's wishes...

I remain alone in a sea of saline tears...

Not a Sebastian or Flounder to make me feel some kind of cheer...

In a way I wish to be alone...
For no other can fill this home...

The gigs up and I stay by the window hoping for a part two...
Although my Prince Charming will not be returning anytime soon...

My heart bleeding another time again...
Losing a lover...and sadly gaining a friend...

To...another area another place...hours away...days away...
Tears couldn't reach the trail of his future stay...

Wishing for his happiness...Is all that remains as I pray...

With one last kiss
With one last hug
With one last smile
With one last show of love

My fairytale ended as I was slashed in two by reality...
The door slowly exposing me to an unexpected vulnerability...
Holding back tears became an incapacity...
Loosing all Disney-filled vivacity...

As my love disappeared with no Fairytale Ending...
